

The Lehi Junction-Railroad Street
Condensed from the Oral History
Lucille Johnson Evans White

Yes,(I was born in the Junction Area of Lehi called Railroad Street). in the northwest part of Lehi. And they called it the Junction. There was a railroad station across the street from my home. And now it's called Railroad Street.

(What railroad was it?) It was the Union Pacific. There was a water tower that the trains came and filled up their tanks with water for the steam engines. There was a railroad station across the street. I don't know for sure what they hauled;Usually freight and coal and some passengers.
